DIARY NOTES

1. [REDACTED] has been withdrawn from the National War College to accept the position of Deputy Assistant Director for Central Reference. I have requested Emmett Echols to ascertain the availability of [REDACTED] of DD/P. If he should be available, then the committee should be polled to determine whether [REDACTED] will go to the National War College. If [REDACTED] should not be available, [REDACTED] should be switched to the National War College and we will nominate someone else for the Industrial College.

2. I discussed with Emmett Echols, [REDACTED] their April Placement Progress Report. I told them that I wanted to make a very careful analysis to see if we could determine the reasons for the high rate of attrition in professional personnel. They will do this although they pointed out that the [REDACTED] exercise in itself has been an important factor. We also discussed the problem of a continuing shortage of clerical personnel although our recruitment efforts are producing better results than we had hoped for and, in fact, we are exceeding our recruitment objectives. This also is being analyzed. I suspect, however, that this is due primarily to the fact that clericals are being promoted into professional positions. We are not meeting our recruitment objectives for communications personnel; however, I was assured by these gentlemen that we were entering communications personnel on duty as fast as the Office of Communications could train them and assimilate them into their organization. I discussed with them briefly my hunch that we were not bringing junior professional personnel into the Agency in sufficient numbers. [REDACTED] said that this was entirely correct, and he is now doing a study on this which may be worthy of presentation to the Executive Committee.

3. [REDACTED] was scheduled to make a presentation at the Executive Committee Meeting this morning; however, it was postponed. I have asked him to stand by. (I want to get it on the agenda again for Monday, 6 May, if possible.)
